ART MUSEUM LECTURE COMPARES RUBENS AND VAN DYCK

RUBENS AND VAN DYCK: A COMPARISON will be the subject of Michael Jaffe' who lectures at The Cleveland Museum of Art this Sunday April 30 at 3:30 p.m. These two artists were the chief masters of Flemish painting during the seventeenth century. They will be compared as portrait painters, designers of figure subjects, and as draughtsmen.

Jaffe' was born in London and educated at King's College, Cambridge, at The Courtauld Institute of Art and Harvard University. He is currently Visiting Professor in the Department of Art and Archaeology at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri.

The lecture will be held in the auditorium of the Museum and is open free to the public.
